1 APPROVED PROVIDER OVERVIEW

The National Certification Board for Therapeutic Massage & Bodywork (NCBTMB) is a nationally-accredited credentialing organization, formed to set higher standards for those who practice therapeutic massage and bodywork.

Board Certification represents the highest attainable credential within the massage therapy profession. Board Certification is an advanced credential separate from entry-level massage therapy state licensure.

NCBTMB Approved Providers (AP) have met the highest standards for continuing education instruction throughout the profession.

Board Certificants must renew their certification every two years and are required to earn 24 CEs from a NCBTMB Approved Provider within that two-year period. The Approved Provider program ensures that Board Certificants and the massage profession have access to reliable, credible, high-quality massage therapy continuing education throughout their careers.

NCBTMB uses the terms CE hours or Continuing Education Hours rather than CEUs.

All CE hours must be clearly stated prior to purchasing courses. CE hours must be awarded in whole or half hour increments only.

Courses should not be advertised as approved by NCBTMB until after approval is received by Approved Provider. Submission of a course does NOT guarantee approval.

Upon approval, Approved Providers are permitted to retroactively grant CE hours for courses for up to one year prior to course approval submission.

Course elements:

It is expected that Approved Providers have knowledge of the basic instructional design elements mandatory for course approval. Below is a list of the course elements that are required when submitting a course for approval. It is advised that you organize this information prior to starting a course approval submission.

Several free, online resources are available to guide Approved Providers in developing the following course elements required on the course approval form. Search terms such as: "instructional design resources" or "adult learning course design" may be helpful in locating these resources.

Course Description

- Description of course content and purpose of class.

Learning Objectives

- Brief, clear statements of what the learner will be able to do once the course is completed.
- Learning objectives are focused on the activities completed during the course.
- As a guideline, courses should include approximately one objective per CE.

Learning Outcomes:

- Statements of the overall goal from participation in an educational activity.
- Outcomes should be measurable.
- Outcomes should describe what the learner will be able to do upon successful completion of the course.

Course outline

- Complete breakdown of the schedule of the course.
- This is often best represented by a schedule of how course time will be spent covering each topic. Break times should be included. For example:
  - 9:00-9:15 AM – Introduction
  - 9:15- 10:00 AM – Topic A
  - 10:00 – 10:10 AM- Break
  - 10:10-10:30 AM – Topic B
  - Etc.

Evaluations

All students should be given an evaluation after a course is completed. Approved Providers should review course evaluations to identify the strengths and weaknesses of courses with the goal of continuous improvement. Sample evaluation can be found as follows for reference.:

- Live course
- Home study course

If any of these elements are missing, the course will be rejected. In addition, NCBTMB staff will provide guidance on areas that need additional information or clarification. Staff is unable to provide assistance with instructional design or in completing submissions for Approved Providers.

Live Course

- A live course is primarily made up of a synchronous education experience in which the learner and instructor are in the same location.

- A live course may include homework outside of the common learning environment in advance of, during or after the course for CE credit. Homework does not count for continuing education hours.

CEs for live education experiences should match the number of hours of instruction based on a 50 minute hour. Meal breaks are excluded from instruction time.

Distance Learning/Webinars

A distance learning/webinar is defined as a synchronous education experience in which learners are in a location remote (or separate) from the instructor who is teaching in real time.

- The criteria for distance learning/webinar classes are the same as for live classes.
- Rebroadcast/recorded webinars should be classified as home study.

Home study course

- A home study course is defined as an asynchronous education experiences in which learners are in a location remote (or separate) from the instructor. Courses can be distributed via website, email or as written material by the Approved Provider to the participant.
- Unsupervised practical assignments will not count for continuing education hours. Written assignments associated with the practical assignments may earn CEs if they are returned to the instructor for grading. Only up to 30% of CEs can derive from acceptable assignments.
- All course material must be made available to NCBTMB for review. This includes, but is not limited to: free access to full online course material, books required for the course, the complete final exam, video and audio content. Missing material or access information will result in the course being rejected. All material becomes the property of NCBTMB upon submission and will not be returned. Materials will be disposed of in accordance with NCBTMB policy.
- All course participants must take a final exam and submit the exam to provider for grading. Requirements of the final exam are:
  - Final exams must contain a minimum of five multiple-choice questions, (containing at least four possible choices), per hour of class. Essay questions may also be used in a written final exam.
  - Exams must be evidence based.
  - Participant must receive a score of 70% or higher on the exam prior to receiving a Certificate of Achievement.
  - Approved Provider must inform participants of the required passing exam score prior to administering the exam.

Approved providers must provide documentation to support assignment of CE hours when courses are approved. Below are minimal criteria used for assigning CE hours when courses are approved:

- 12,000 words read equals one CE
- One hour of video or audio equals one CE
- Providers may document additional CEs for course work beyond the word count (i.e., reflective assignments, additional reading)

Approved Providers may also work with an instructional designer to determine CE hours. Instructional designer must provide documentation of assignment of CE hours and demonstrate educational qualifications to serve in that capacity. Contact NCBTMB staff for additional information.

These Approved Provider Standards of Practice ensure that Approved Providers and applicants for Approved Provider status are aware of, and committed to, upholding high standards of practice for the profession. Also, the Approved Provider Standards of Practice are meant to assist members of the profession, including consumers, other health care professionals, and state and municipal regulatory agencies or boards with understanding the duties and responsibilities of NCBTMB Approved Providers and applicants for Approved Provider status.

The NCBTMB developed and adopted the Approved Provider Standards of Practice to provide Approved Providers and applicants for Approved Provider status with a clear statement of the expectations of professional conduct and level of practice afforded the profession in, among other things, the following areas: Professionalism, Legal and Ethical Requirements, Confidentiality, Business Practices, Roles and Boundaries, and Prevention of Sexual Misconduct. These Approved Provider Standards of Practice were approved and ratified by the NCBTMB Board of Directors, representatives of the Approved Provider population and key stakeholders of the NCBTMB.

Preamble

These Approved Provider Standards of Practice for the profession of therapeutic massage and bodywork are the guiding principles by which Approved Providers and applicants for Approved Provider status conduct their day-to-day responsibilities within their scope of practice. These principles help to assure that all professional behaviors are conducted in the most ethical, compassionate, and responsible manner. Through these Approved Provider Standards of Practice, NCBTMB seeks to establish and uphold high standards, traditions, and principles of the practices that constitute the profession of therapeutic massage and bodywork and continuing education. The Standards are enforceable guidelines for professional conduct, and therefore, are stated in observable and measurable terms intended as minimum levels of practice to which Approved Providers and applicants for Approved Provider status are held accountable. Upon submission of the application to become an Approved Provider, each applicant for Approved Provider status must agree to uphold and abide by the NCBTMB Approved Provider Code of Ethics, Approved Provider Standards of Practice and applicable policies.
